

Su İkramımızdır (Water is on the house), 2014

Project space

Su İkramımızdır (Water is on the house) is Serra Tansel and Duval Timothy's project that took place in Polistar, Istanbul in September 2014. The filter permanently installed in Polistar's tap was used for serving water in the gallery in the handmade clay cups and another tap was put on street level to serve as a public water fountain during the project. Providing free drinking water and using water as a common ground to bring everyone together in a neighbourhood full of conflict between the more conservative locals and the newcomers gentrifying the area, Su İkramımızdır was used as an event space for 10 days. The events involved performances, movie screenings and mini gigs that were all around the themes of water and public spaces. Locals were involved and chance encounters became a part of the project. Sercan, the 9 year old percussionist's gig, Medyartiz's Virüel Potansiyel performance of fortune telling, Mario Rizzi's movie on the local shoe makers Murat and İsmail are a few examples from the events calendar. (Photos by Duval Timothy)

